WOMEN'S INSTITUTE MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. H. L. Gaetz, March 7th, at 3:30 p.m. Some of the results of the new membership campaign were seen, as this was the largest meeting ever held in Red Deer, there being 52 members present. Mrs. Gamble and Mrs. Matthews were present representing the W.A. of St. Luke's Church, to ask the Institute to hold a 3-ton dinner Lent, they having planned to serve tea and sale of cooking on Saturdays. This occasioned quite a discussion, as it was decided at last meeting either to hold tea ourselves every Saturday or rent the tea room. The members decided that on three Saturdays they serve tea only, on other three there should be the usual tea and sale of cooking. The hospital committee reported having bought 3 doz. shirts, and these were distributed to be made as soon as possible. A hearty vote of thanks was to be sent to Cushing Lumber Co. for lumber, also to Mr. Stone for attractive new sign for the tea-room. At next meeting Mrs. Galbraith will address the Institute on "Local Council Work." It is hoped everyone will make a special effort to attend. There being no further business, after a social cup of tea, the meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. Collison on April 4th.

Mrs. Bjorkeland, Mrs. J. J. Richards, Mrs. Whitehouse, Mrs. Collison, Mrs. Houghton and Mrs. Sauerbrey will attend Calgary convention, also Mrs. A. Trimble, Clearview, and Rev. and Mrs. Suter, Springfield.

U.F.A. MEETING.

A meeting of the Red Deer local was held in the City hall on March 8, president McKinnon in the chair, and W. R. Ellwood acting as secretary.

Mr. Whitehouse gave a paper on banking, which was listened to with marked interest and attention, as he outlined the principles governing the banks in their business transactions, their limitations, the service which they could and did render in the community and country, showing most effectively the superiority of the Canadian banking system, especially in cases of stringency or panic. At the close of his paper a vote of thanks to Mr. Whitehouse was moved by H. Wallace, seconded by Mr. Smith, and most heartily given by the meeting.

Mr. Whitehouse was asked and he agreed to give a paper on Insect Pests at our meeting on April 15th, if we trust a large number will take the opportunity of gaining information on this important and timely subject.

A letter from Mr. Stauffer, U.F.A. director for Red Deer district, was read. Mr. Stauffer being present, addressed the meeting on the advisability of political action on the part of the U.F.A. and on the object of the convention of March 18th, in the Parish Hall. Mr. L. M. Gaetz and R. D. W. McKinnon were chosen delegates to that convention.

R. Van Slyke, L. M. Gaetz, J. Cole, D. Bowers, C. Smith, and the president and secretary were chosen as an executive committee for the local.

A motion was carried approving of the conduct of the Edmonton convention, and urging in future conventions precedents be given in the business to resolutions from L.C.A.s.

Fred Wilton has started a class of pupils for the teaching of the violin. Any person wishing instruction in the king of musical instruments should apply to 26, Ross Street. We wish him success in his venture.

A. P. POLICE NOTES

At the adjourned trial of George Paton, Delburne, the Socialist candidate at the Red Deer 1917 Provincial election, for infraction of the Orders-in-Council affecting censorship, etc., by the circulation of an objectionable letter tending to arouse hostile feelings create unrest and uneasiness and influence public opinion by the following words: "What is this kind of escape route? What is this kind of escape route? What is this kind of escape route?" The full letter was introduced on Thursday. It was to the Socialist Executive at Vancouver, B.C., and was couched in vigorous Socialist language concerning the powers that be and the rotten, stinking, condition of capitalist society in general.

Mr. Paton was found guilty by Justice Wallace and Carwell and fined $50 and costs. Mr. Robertson, his lawyer, stated his intention of appealing the sentence.

DEATH OF MRS. WHITE

The many friends of Mrs. George T. White were shocked to hear of her sudden death at the Holy Cross Hospital, Calgary, on Tuesday last week, following a very serious operation. Mrs. White had been ailing for some years and was visiting her daughter, Mrs. R. O. Ware, at Calgary, when she took suddenly ill and a specialist being called in, she was advised at once to undergo an operation, which she consented to, and a diseased kidney was removed, but although she rallied for a time, the strain on her system was too great, and she passed away as above stated. Mrs. White was born near Drayton, Wellington County, Ontario, and was married to Mr. White 27 years ago, who was raised in the same locality. They came west in 1909, and took up land in Balmain, where they have since resided, except for a couple of years in Red Deer, the Lobb family, among others. Mrs. White was a genial, kindly Christian woman, deeply interested in the good of her home locally, especially in the Hospital Aid and in the Red Cross, and has been a member of the Methodist Church for the past twenty-five years. She is survived by her husband; their daughter, Mrs. R. O. Ware, Calgary; her mother, Mrs. Richard Lobb; her sisters, Mrs. P. Kne, Mrs. Chas. White, Mrs. Ruston (Saskatchewan) and Mrs. Elliott, and her brothers, Mr. George Lobb and Mr. J. W. Brown, conducting the funeral took place from the Jacques-Orme Funeral Home on Friday afternoon for the Red Deer cemetery. Rev. W. W. Brown, conducting the services. There was a very large attendance of old friends of the family, the funeral being one of the largest seen in the city for some time.

There were a number of beautiful wreaths on the casket testifying to the love and regard of many friends. The pall bearers were: Messrs. R. Lund, B. Northey, H. Mott, John McKenna, James Cruickshank, and R. C. P. Gee. Some of the outside friends present were Mrs. Ruston, Brown, Kent, Innes, and Mrs. Davidson, Linnell.

The news going in sympathy with other friends to the bereaved husband and daughter and relatives in their great sorrow.

MILITARY NOTES

Pte. Miller, of Condon, returned on Thursday last. He went overseas with the 187th battalion.

Pte. Arthur T. England has returned to Canada a few days ago, but is visiting friends in Toronto on his way home.

The regular monthly meeting of the G.W.V.A. will be held in the Armories, Red Deer, on Sunday, March 16, at 2:30 p.m. We have some very urgent matters to deal with, so it is to the advantage of all members to attend. To all returned men not yet members we extend a cordial invitation.

PENHOLD NOTES

Last Thursday a very largely attended meeting of the Women's Institute took place at the home of Mrs. Ambrey Wood. The ladies all brought contributions of eggs, which amounted to the excellent number of 54 doz, and which will be sent to the Red Cross at Calgary for the Ogdan Home.

The Women's Institute have bought the lot of Mr. J. A. Garwood, and will put up a building as a war memorial. Fuller details of the nature of this will be given later as the ladies' plans are not complete yet. Several bags of gravel have already been brought by the farmers, and any help in this direction will be much appreciated.

The Red Cross Society meet on Thursday, March 13, at the home of Mrs. Hives. Mrs. Dixon has promised to take some of the ladies from town out.

THE RED DEER SCHOOL DISTRICT, RED DEER, ALBERTA BALANCE SHEET and REVENUE ACCOUNT DECEMBER 31st, 1918.

February 3rd, 1919.

The Trustees, The Red Deer School District, Red Deer, Alberta.

Dear Sirs—We have completed the audit of the Books of Account and Vouchers for the year ending December 31st, 1918, and attach hereto Certified Balance Sheet as at that date and Revenue Account for the year then ending.

During the past year your present Secretary Treasurer has opened a set of books for the School District, and we have been able to prepare a proper Balance Sheet and Revenue Account.

We understand that it is your intention to have the Real Estate and Buildings reviewed and strongly recommend this being done.

At the end of next year it will then be possible to provide for depreciation on the Buildings which has not been done this year as we were not certain as to the correctness of the figures as shown.

We would suggest that the Real Estate be taken at the value at which it is assessed on the City of Red Deer.

We wish to say that we found the Books of Account in excellent order and that we obtained all the information necessary for our audit.

We are, Yours truly,

BALDWIN, DOW & BOWMAN,
Chartered Accountants.

G.T.P. NOW IN THE HAND OF A RECEIVER.

Ottawa, March 9.—Hon. J. D. Reid, minister of railways, has appointed receiver of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway system. The appointment follows an official announcement which Sir Thomas White received on Thursday from the vice-president of the Grand Trunk Pacific, a notification that in view of the fact that the increased rates applicable to the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway have not been sufficient to meet the increased operating expenses, it would not be possible for the company, owing to lack of funds, to continue its operations beyond Monday, March 10th.

In view of this notification, it became necessary that the government should take steps to ensure the continuous operation of the system.

Under existing legislation this could not be accomplished by an application to the courts for the appointment of a receiver. The War Measures Act, however, was found to provide adequate authority for action by the government, and consequently an order-in-council was passed, appointing the minister of railways receiver of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway system, which includes the branch lines, telegraph, and the departments and other companies.

The lady curiers had a very exciting game with Innisfail on Monday last, losing by one point. It was anybody's game from the start, and was not decided until the last rock was thrown.

CONDOR

A great stock reducing sale is going on at Clement's store, Condor. A discount of 20% will be allowed on dry goods, hardware, and all kinds of footwear, mitts and gloves. Also 25% off felt boots and moccasins. It will pay you to buy these lines for next winter. Sale ends March 15th. Come early and secure bargains. W. J. Clement.

Evan Robson, who lost his residence on Fifth St. North, at present occupied by J. Watson Hall, to Dr. McCrosbie.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Kingzett have returned to Red Deer from Saskatchewan, and Mr. Kingzett has taken a position in the Groceries.

A special meeting of the G.W.V.A. will be held in the Armories on Thursday evening, March 13th, at 8 p.m. As very important matters are to be discussed it is specially requested that all members be present.

The W. A. of St. Luke's Church will hold a ten cent tea and sale of home made cooking on Wednesday next, March 19th, in the Parish Hall from 3 to 6.

The Women's Institute are having a ten cent tea in the tea room on Saturday, March 16th. The ladies in charge will be Mrs. McQuinn and Mrs. De Long.

A ten cent tea and sale of baking under the auspices of the Methodist Ladies' Aid, will be held on St. Patrick's Day, March 17th, at the home of Mrs. Brumpton, 6th St. N.E.

The Waskasoo Guild are giving a St. Patrick's social in the Waskasoo school house on Monday evening, March 17th. Everybody welcome. Collection to be taken.

A meeting of the W.C.T.U. was held at the home of Mrs. R. L. Gaetz on Friday afternoon, with a fairly good attendance. This being the Frances Willard Memorial Day, Mrs. Graves was in charge of the meeting. After the devotional exercises, the business of the Union was disposed of. Mrs. Strickland read an interesting and interesting biography of the life of Frances Willard. A reading on "The Influence of Miss Willard's life" was given by Mrs. P. W. Gaetz. Miss Daisy Gaetz rendered suitable music on the piano. The lesson in Civics "The National Debt" was taken up by Mrs. P. W. Gaetz. At the close of the meeting the hostess served refreshments. Altogether a profitable and most enjoyable afternoon was spent. A medal contest will be given by the W.C.T.U., the latter part of April, if enough young folks can be found to take part. If any boys or girls wish to contest, let them come to the meeting. Mrs. Senacko or Mrs. Ramsey, would be glad to have their names.

EAST AND WEST MAY COM- PROMISE ON TARIFF ISSUE

Ottawa, Feb. 27.—The government caucus this morning, which lasted several hours, was described by all the ministers and members as most harmonious. It was a most satisfactory gathering, said Sir Thomas White acting premier. The government legislation was discussed and suggestions were made on various measures.

There was the utmost unity, but there was some criticism of the proposed prohibition bill to continue the ban on the manufacture and import of liquor. The explanation of the cabinet, however, that there was to be a referendum when the soldiers returned was generally accepted as satisfactory.

The tariff question came up only incidentally, but eastern and western members expressed the hope that they would be able to get together. Some supposed ultra high protectionists antagonized the westerners by their willingness to compromise, and the feeling was general that there was never a better time for east and west to get together on common ground.

KNOWLEDGE OF LANGUAGES.

The train in France was full of French soldiers, and was soon starting off when an English Tommy rushed on the platform eager to catch it.

Seeing a few of the gallant Allies grinning out of a window at him, he approached.

"How do?"

"Go to blank blank!" said one of the Frenchmen, who had learned English from the Tommies.

"An' r'v'rd, old timer," continued the Tommy, and he was let in and made room for on the strength of their mutual knowledge of the languages.

AWAY.

I cannot say, and I will not say that he is dead—he is just away. With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand

He has wandered away into an unknown land.

And left us dreaming how very fair it needs must be since he lingers there.

And yet—O you who the wildest yearn

For the old-time step and the glad return.

Think of him faring on, as dear In the love of There as the love of Here.

And loyal still, as he gave the blow Of his warrior strength to his country's foes.

Mild as gentle as he was brave—When the sweetest love of his life he gave

To shape things; where the violets grew Pure as the eyes, they are likened to.

The touches of his hand have strayed As reverently as his lips have prayed. When the little brown thrush that harshly chirped.

Was dear to him as the mocking bird. Think of him still as the same, I say, He is not dead—he is just away!

RATHER UNCERTAIN.

There was no doubt about it, Miss Missotto thought she could sing, and was greatly gratified when she heard that a male acquaintance appreciated the feat.

"So beautifully praised my singing, did he?" she asked her informant.

"He did that, he said it was heavenly."

"Did he really say that?" she asked again breathlessly.

"Well, not exactly, but he probably meant that, anyway. He said it was unearthly."

THE LONELY SOLDIER

AND HOW THE SALVATION ARMY REACHED HIM.

There has just taken place at the great military camp at Aldershot the funeral of a Canadian soldier who came under the notice of the Salvation Army under somewhat unusual circumstances.

A fortnight previous a cable was received at the Foreign office, International Headquarters, from Toronto, stating that an influential business man had a son lying seriously ill in a certain military hospital at Aldershot, and wished him to be visited by the Salvation Army.

With all speed a telegraphic message was sent to Adjutant Coates, the officer in charge of the Naval and Military Home at Aldershot, who at once went to find the sick soldier. He had been removed from the hospital named in the cable. This meant a further search, and at last the man was discovered.

News was the same day cabled to Canada notifying the condition of the son to his parents, who wired back an expression of their gratitude and the request that the invalid might be further cared for.

Each day Adjutant Coates visited the hospital and kept the anxious father and mother acquainted with his condition, until eventually the poor fellow died. It fell to the lot of the Adjutant to cable the news to Canada, and it was the Salvationist's sad privilege to stand by the grave in place of the loved ones far away.

THE ENEMY'S RETREAT

It was a first class smoking carriage, and it had been wantonly invaded by a mother and a crying baby. The big fat man in the corner stood it as long as he could, then he protested.

"I wish to goodness the company would reserve special carriages for howling brats!"

"Tain't a brat!" snapped the mother hotly. "And 'e don't howl half as much as you did at his age, by the look of you now!"

Then, to the baby:

"Baby, see the ugly man! Baby, see the ugly-wiggly, monkey-monkey, piggy-wiggly old man what took the first prize at the ugly-wiggly show! Sa-sh! Baby keep quiet, else the naty-pasty, doggy-woggy-faced old—"

But the train stopped just then, and the big fat man waited for no more.

HARNESS FOR SPRING WORK

If you are needing harness for spring work look over the harness here listed, which are four of the 20 styles we carry, that have proved to be the best sellers. The harness here illustrated is, we believe, of exceptional value and cannot be duplicated, much less beaten, anywhere, at the price.

All our harness is made from "Union Oak" Leather, and every part is backed by our guarantee.

Our stock of Collars (about 300 in number) range from size 17 to 24, in straight or sweeney, leather or cloth faced. While we are always busy, we are never too busy to give your horse a square deal in the way of properly fitted collars. It's a duty you owe your horses, and a part of our SERVICE—a service we have been rendering for 25 years.

Our Repair Department is at your service and we were never better equipped to give you efficient and prompt service. We consider ourselves fortunate in having secured the service of Mr. P. Cameron in this Department, who has had 30 years experience, first with the "Blue Noses," some across the line, and 13 years in Alberta.

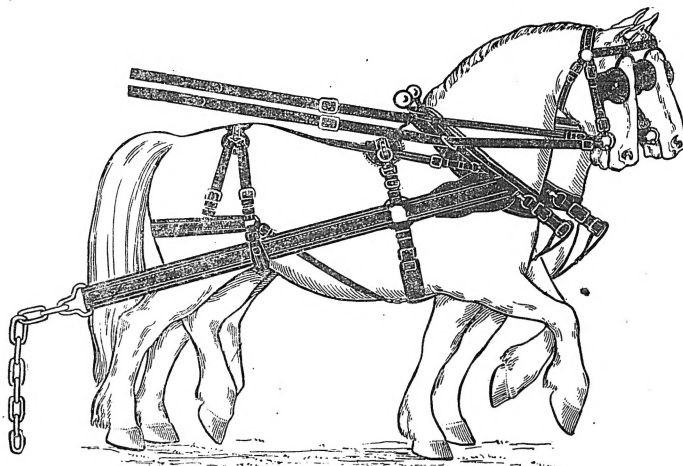

If you are needing repairs, hurry it along now so that you can have it in good time for spring work... If it needs oiling—and it usually does—we have a harness dipper and oiler that will do the job right: Full Breaching Set, $2.25.

UNITED FARMERS TAKING ACTION

CONVENTION CALLED TO DECIDE WHAT SHALL BE DONE IN POLITICS.
 OLDS LOCAL HAS STARTED THE
BALL ROLLING IN RED DEER
CONSTITUENCY.

Members of the United Farmers organization are waiting no time bringing into effect the political action resolution passed at the annual convention recently held at Edmonton. It will be remembered that on that occasion it was decided that political action might be taken when ten per cent. of the U.F.A. locals in any constituency expressed a desire to call a convention. More than that number of locals in the Medicine Hat constituency have expressed their desire to call a convention for the consideration of political action, and it has been decided to call the convention to be held in the city of Medicine Hat at 10 o'clock on Tuesday morning, March 25. The Becker hall has been secured for the occasion.

President H. W. Wood has been invited to be present. This is the first convention to be called under the provisions of the political action resolution passed by the U.F.A. annual convention in January.

IN RED DEER, TOO.
 At a recent U.F.A. meeting of the Olds local political action, there were present representatives from Red Deer, Penhold, Innisfail and Bowden locals. After some discussion it was decided to call a preliminary meeting of the local in the Red Deer constituency for the purpose of ascertaining if the farmers in Red Deer constituency were ready for independent political action.

This will be merely a preliminary meeting to ascertain whether or not the U.F.A. locals desire to call a convention of Red Deer constituency political action, and will be held at the Parish Hall at Red Deer on Tuesday, March 19th, at 2 p.m.

THE NEWS' WEEKLY SERMON

CONTRIBUTED

For the work of Christ, he was night unto death, not regarding his life to supply your lack of service.—Phil. 2: 20.

The epistle to the Philippians is one of the most intimate and personal of St. Paul's letters, and the reference to the self-sacrificing service of Epaphroditus shows the depth of affection which marked the friendship of the great apostle and his devoted companions.

Our interest in the text is incidental, and we shall confine our attention to the phrase, "not regarding his life." The verb used here in the original Greek is the word to gamble. Epaphroditus was ready to risk his life in order to serve his friend.

The Hebrew people, imbued with a high regard for the overruling providence of Jehovah, were not addicted to the vice of gambling, and so the Bible contains very few references to this evil and no specific prohibition against it.

This does not imply that the absence of a clearly defined prohibition gives us license to do as we please in this matter; nor are we to suppose that the Bible does not lay down principles whereby we may be guided in such questions of gambling. The principle which is the basis of all morality is the principle of love. The Bible will be of to us most valuable as a guide to conduct when we clearly apprehend the great moral principles which underlie its teaching and are prepared to apply these great principles to the solution of our ethical problems. It has been said that every vice has its corresponding virtue. Courage is a noble virtue, but foolhardiness is a vice; thrift is a virtue to be commended, but a miserly spirit is a reproach to any man. To be filled with the spirit of love, the sublime experiences which intoxicate the soul, but drunkenness demoralizes and degrades the noblest souls.

Gambling is the vice which impairs the moral life of the individual and the welfare of society, but at the same time it is the perversion of certain natural and human instincts which properly directed would result in highest good.

The vicious effects of gambling may be enumerated:

(a) It tends to destroy the proper conception of the rights of property and makes men careless of the responsibility which attaches to the possession of wealth.

(b) It undermines the principles upon which a sound commercial system must rest—honesty, industry, honor and justice.

(c) It destroys the spirit of good sportsmanship, develops selfishness, and war against the law of brotherhood. Herbert Spencer, in his study of sociology says, "Gambling is a kind of action by which pleasure is obtained at the cost of the pain of another. The normal attainment of gratification, or of the money which purchases gratification, implies first, that the gratification has been put forth equivalent effort of a kind which has in some way furthered the general good, and secondly, that those from whom the money is received get directly or indirectly equivalent satisfaction. But in gambling the opposite is the case. The benefit received does not imply effort put forth, and the happiness of the winner implies the misery of the loser. It therefore scars the sympathies, cultivates a hard egoism, and so produces a general deterioration of the character and conduct."

(d) The vice of gambling consists in the fundamentally dishonest desire to obtain something for nothing. It leads to cheating, laziness and a restless excitement which unites men for duty and banishes from their minds the generous spirit of social service.

In the game of life there are certain elements of chance which strongly influence the lives of all and affect the character and welfare of those who take part in it. It is sometimes difficult to distinguish between legitimate investment and illegitimate speculation. Good business demands and develops the highest activities of man's judgment and reason. Good business is based on sound judgment, sound reason, sound judgment, foresight, promptness, energy, determination and patient endurance are necessary to a successful career.

Good business benefits the community as well as the individual. It enlarges the sphere of human interests, it blesses him that gives and him that takes. Every legitimate business transaction furthers the interest of each who takes part in it.

Good business rests upon the faith in the order and rationality of the universe—commercial life is well designed to be a means of grace. Illegitimate speculation seeks only selfish gain, trusts to lucky chance and ignores moral obligations. Having considered the vicious effects of the practice of gambling, let us direct our attention to the qualities of life which may be said to constitute the virtue of the gambling spirit.

1. The desire to conquer, to win out in the game of life. The divine command to have dominion over life is a primal law of our being. Man cannot win this dominion unless he is willing to risk his life in the enterprise. The spirit of adventure seeks necessary to all progress. The resources of the earth have been discovered by those who were willing to endure hardship and loneliness and risk life and limb in exploring the wilderness of land and sea. And is there not something in the lives of each of us which responds to the challenge of the difficult. The mastery of the air has been won by those who, grappling with the forces of nature have dared to fail, that others might learn to rise and not fall. The resources of the world have been made available for the many by the daring enterprise of the few, who blazed the trail into unknown regions, laid the steel and built the highways of the world, and made the world a neighborhood.

2. The love of freedom is also to the spirit of conquest. Men are not content to be pawns in the game of life, held in check by the forces of past achievements. The spirit of adventure has led men to think for themselves and to investigate new realms of truth. Leaving the lowly "valued past" they have built more manly mansions for the soul.

"Be of good cheer, Master Ridley," cries the martyr Latimer, "We shall this day light such a fire in England as shall trust by the grace of God shall never be put out." The highways to freedom have been lighted by the martyr fires of men who dared to risk their all that the race might move onward and upward abreast of truth.

While the coward stands aside, Till the multitude make virtue Of the faith they have denied. The fire of excitement is another phase of the gambling spirit, closely allied to the passion for freedom. "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." Life becomes grey and monotonous to the man whose existence has been reduced to the routine of mere machinery; whose emotional life is deadened by stagnation. Sensation is sought by those who have not learned to express themselves aright, who are engaged in a "struggle" for the sake of a struggle. The spirit of true sportsmanship is found in those who, craving the highest joy, delighting in the spirit of free death and greatest adventure, are eagles, sailing in flight, run, with the vigor of abundant life and walk with the unfailing energy of those who work together with God in the business of living. To them life is tinged with glory and work and play go to make of existence a joyous game and death a greatest adventure of all. The dreary life of labor which so often leads men to form the indolent habit of gambling is eliminated in those who have found a personal interest in the daily task, and bring to it the untiring strength of inspired consecration.

Probably, the strongest impulse in the passion of gambling is the desire for money. So deep seated is this instinct, and so powerful is its appeal, that it has been said the love of money is a root of every kind of evil. Money in itself has no moral significance. It represents power, which may be directed toward good or evil ends, and it becomes to man the chief asset of his moral being. We may become the slaves of wealth, sacrificing our souls for gain, or we may use it as a means to have and to hold, or we may make of wealth the instrument of noble purposes and divine ideals. The all important question, is, are we slaves or slaves? Do we imagine that we live by the things we possess, holding them for ourselves or has there come to us the standard of a higher life, the vision of a new world-order, whose law is sacrifice, and whose deep seated motive is service.

Are we risking our life for time, our talent, in a selfish desire for personal gain, or have we learned with Livingston, the scientist, the emancipator, the missionary, to place no value upon anything we have or may possess save in relation to the kingdom of God.

For the work of Christ, he exposed himself to danger and to death, to supply our lack of service to a needy enslaved and unenlightened world.

NEWSBOYS AT CALGARY.

Under the auspices of the Calgary Herald and the direct supervision of its circulation manager, A. J. Hilliker, a unique banquet was staged on Friday evening last at the Hotel. Completely filling the large grill room of the hotel were between two and three hundred of the brightest faced boys of Alberta, known to the public as the "Herald Newsboys." They were the route boys who handle the Herald in Calgary city and the towns of Southern Alberta, and it was their pleasure to be on the occasion the guests of the Herald management, the company paying all their travelling, hotel and other expenses.

With an orchestra making melody, the boys did full justice to the dinner which was served in real Pullman style, and following the dinner there was an evening of entertainment provided by the boys and outside artists of well known reputation. Mr. Hilliker, in a short speech explained how the boys had helped to boost the circulation of the Herald in city and country by their good work, until to the Herald it was a real "back to back" in respect anywhere in Canada.

Mr. J. H. Woods, managing director of the company, gave the boys a talk on co-operation and showed them how they were a very important factor in the machinery of the big business.

The out of town boys were entertained at the Allan and Regent picture theatres during their stay in the city as the guests of the management, and the boys spent a very pleasant and interesting hour going through the Herald mechanical plant, seeing for the first time how a great newspaper is made.

The representatives in the party from Red Deer were Fred and Geo. Balle.

CORRESPONDENCE

H.M.C.S. Rainbow,
Esquimaut, B.C.,
Feb. 27, 1919.

The Editor, The News.

Dear Sir—Two letters appeared in your issue of Feb. 14th, bearing on the subject of the resolution passed at the G.W.V.A. Convention at Lethbridge, re the Postmaster's appointment at Red Deer. The letter signed by Mr. Mitchell places the position of his association on this question before the public, and while I do not wholly agree with the stand they take, I have no quarrel with them. While having no wish for a newspaper controversy, I am not one of the men who take "no issue" and "no instructions" offered in the latter part of the letter signed by the Executive of the Red Deer branch of the G.W.V.A. lying down. I am not now referring to the personalities to myself which the writers of the said letter felt it to resort, but to the insults to the crews of the Niobe, Rainbow, and other ships of the Canadian Navy. The senior Service can not be accused of parading their opinions before the public, but it may be wise to inform my friends the writers of the letter referred to, that the British and Canadian Admiralty do not take their view of the value of the ships mentioned during the present war. A number of Red Deer's sons served on those ships, and it is not to the credit of any person to hold them up to ridicule, and for the purpose of offsetting the remarks that appear in the letter referred to, I propose to give the public in general and our friends the G.W.V.A. in particular, a small insight into the doings of the ships in question. Taking the Niobe first,—for the first eighteen months of the war she did good service at sea in protecting the Atlantic coast of Canada, during which period she captured, or assisted in capturing, sixty old ships belonging to the enemy, or who were assisting the enemy by carrying ammunition, supplies, etc., and conveying our ships from port to port. From that time on she has been used as a depot and training ship for the many patrol vessels, mine sweepers, trawlers, drifters, etc., for the Atlantic coast. In addition to this she continually supplied patrol crews for transport services to England and France. The Rainbow, also manned by men of the Canadian Navy and Naval Volunteers, proceeded to sea within four hours of the receipt of the news of the attack on the liner. One of her first duties was to proceed to the Southern Pacific and find and escort the Shearwater and Algerine, two of our small mines to a safe port, out of the way of the German squadron at that time in those waters. She succeeded in her object, and it is not known how close she came to a fight with the enemy ships. It was while in search for the Shearwater that the Rainbow was turned into San Francisco for coal, and during the coaling evolution her captain learned that the German cruiser Leipzig was in the vicinity. Work was hurried and the old ship was port to look for the enemy, cleared for action, and as events afterwards proved, only missed it through the result of fog enveloping the coast. There was no hiding in a neutral port. What the result of an action might have been is problematic, but the fact is that she went out to meet her fate, not to hide from it. Following this the old ship travelled some one hundred and twenty thousand miles at sea in patrolling the Pacific coast from North to South, before being turned into a depot and training establishment for the Pacific coast. The ships are, of course, insensible to gibes and sneers, but the men who served on them are surely entitled to credit, not ridicule. I may also state here that a considerable number of men were transferred from the above ships to the Imperial Service in one form or another, but not all that tried, by any means, while I realize the small amount of knowledge possessed by our Executive friends on this matter, I am not in a position for certain reasons to enlighten them at the present time. The work of the Shearwater, Submarines, Malsipina, and the ill fated Gallian, could be enlarged upon, but I do not think it necessary. All of these crews were trained here, and were part and parcel of the Canadian Navy of which our friends think so little.

Regarding the personalities about myself, they do not worry me in the least, they may amuse, for a time those who wrote them. I notice the writers try to impress us with the fact that they were actually in the trenches. All honor to them! At the same time I say that while I did not reach either the trenches or the North Sea, I am not ashamed of my record, having joined the Imperial Service in 1914, and served for back as 1855, and that within three months of the outbreak of the present war, I volunteered my services for the North Sea, or anywhere I was needed, and on being appointed to the Shearwater I again went on record to be sent to the war zone. Now, Mr. Editor, I am not posing for the public, and I am not making a reference to the G.W.V.A., though I have a great respect for that body, as I have for other associations composed of men who have served their King and Empire in other service during this or any other war. My record is the only reference I require. Thanking you, I remain, yours truly,

WILLIAM H. HADLEY.

HING POSTHUMOUS FAME

"This passage," said the publisher, "seems ambiguous to me. What do you mean by it?"

"I don't know," replied the great author. "I left it there for the commentators and literary clubs to work over when I'm dead."

"Laws, this war do open one's eyes, don't it? Fancy your son writing from Jerusalem—I always thought Jerusalem was in Heaven!"

PRODUCE

Eggs have been scarce during the cold snap and the deep snow which prevented farm shipments during the first part of the week. As a result, prices have been abnormally high, but yesterday and today receipts started to increase and while the price for the first part of the week may hold round $14.70 to $15.50, there is likely to be a break back to lower figures any day and quotations are unsafe. Some Oregon eggs are now being received by Calgary shippers, it being found that it was more advantageous to buy there than in the Minneapolis and Chicago markets. Dairy butter is a little better demand and straight receipts are quoted up to 25c, with the grades selling about the same. Creamery butter is firm and unchanged. No change in poultry prices yet. Poultry shipments are light and prices about the same as last week, with occasional shipments of live birds getting a premium because of exceptional conditions. Potatoes are quoted around $3.00 a ton lower with the price at Alberta points now around $2.50. An attempt is being made to sell a little more freely, but the dealers are not buying much.

COLONEL COLQUHOUN STATES THAT STORY OF RIOT IS EXAGGERATED

London, March 10.—General Colquhoun, in the course of a statement on the rioting of Canadian soldiers at Kimmel, said that no attack was made on the officers, who were treated with courtesy.

"I, myself, went in and among the men freely," he added, "and some of them actually put down foot on order to salute me—then they picked up the foot again."

"The reports of the damage to the camp are greatly exaggerated. Some 50 or 60 men got out of hand and attacked some cantenets. The men in one camp, anticipating danger, armed themselves, and, contrary to express orders, fired. That was on Wednesday, when the fatalities occurred."

"The girls were not attacked. As a matter of fact, the girls were treated with the utmost civility. No man entered the girls' room while they were occupied."

"One man raised the red flag, in an attempt to introduce the Bolshevism. He was shot."

UNIVERSITY NOTES

At the last meeting of the University of Alberta Senate the Acting President was empowered to appoint a committee representative of the various interests of the University to take up the question of a memorial in connection with the relation of the University to the great war. The personnel of the committee is now announced and is as follows:

Board of Governors: Hon. Chief Justice Harvey, chairman of the committee; A. A. Carpenter, Esq.

Senate: The Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, the Dean of the Faculty, Principal of Robertson College, W. M. Davidson, Esq., Dr. W. S. Galbraith, G. H. Ross, Esq.

Administration: The President of the University, the Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences, the Dean of the Faculty of Agriculture, the Provost, the Registrar.

Faculty: Professor Broadus, Professor Boyle, Professor Gies, Assistant Professor Adam.

Alumni Association: President of the Alumni Association; Mrs. R. J. Russell, W. R. Howson, Esq., Major J. R. Lowe.

Comfort Club: The President and the Secretary.

Undergraduates: The President of the Students' Union; the President of the Wausettia Society.

The short course in Agriculture on during the whole of the week beginning March 1st, by the College of Agriculture at the University will consist of two main departments, agriculture and home economics. In agriculture, the field crops and cultivation work will be put on in the Vocational Hall, Arts Building, every morning from 10 to 12 o'clock. Courses in sewing in the same room from 2 to 3:30 o'clock, followed by a class in home nursing from 3:30 to 4 o'clock. All of these courses are free and all are invited to attend.

There will be three evening sessions, Monday evening, dealing with farm crop work, Tuesday evening, experimental work in live stock; both lectures being illustrated. One night during the week, Hon. Duncan Marshall will address the audience on some subject of importance agriculturally, to the Province. Any further information required may be obtained by writing or phoning Dean Howes at the University.

Word has just been received that H. C. Stockley, student at law at the University, has died of pneumonia.

Overseas, Mr. Stockley was a graduate in Arts of MacMaster University, Toronto, and came west to pursue his law studies in Alberta. In March, 1916, he enlisted with the Western Universities' Battalion.

A team of women of the University of Saskatchewan are expected here on Monday, March 3rd, to play a game of basketball with the University of Alberta team. This is the first time in the history of the two Universities that an intercollegiate game has been played by the women.

CANADIANS ALL BACK BY END OF JUNE

Victoria, March 4.—In a letter received here today from Lieut. Gen. Sir Arthur Currie, the Canadian Corps commander, says, in writing on February 7, that most of the Third division was then in England on route for home. The First, Second and Fourth divisions, he writes, will follow in the order named. The policy had been decided upon of returning the men by units. All the Canadian troops will have reached England on May 1, and all will be back in Canada before the end of June.

The corps headquarters, General Currie says, is now at Bonn, Germany.

SPECIAL COUNCIL MEETING

At a special meeting of the City Council on Thursday evening last, the following resolution was passed unanimously:

"Whereas a bill has been introduced in the Legislature to amend the City of Red Deer to amend the financial condition of the Municipality which bill apparently includes under its provisions the City of Red Deer."

And whereas the present financial condition of the City of Red Deer is such that it does not require relief of the kind covered by the bill, as, since 1914, the debt has been reduced over $400,000.00 and to date, March 6th, all debentures and treasury bills of the City and the School District due and presented have been paid, all demands of the public and high schools and hospital have been paid and practically all accounts have been paid and the City has a revenue surplus of over $44,000.00 which it holds against loss on arrears of taxes and the City is not short of any sinking fund payments and the only legislation the City of Red Deer requires is such as will facilitate the collection of arrears and the completion of the term of payment of treasury bills not yet due, which legislation is being provided in the Red Deer Bill 1919.

And Whereas the area of the City of Red Deer is only about 1000 acres (one and a half sections) and there are no large subdivisions in the City limits, nor are there incumbrances in the assessment as, since 1913, no appeals against the assessment have been allowed by a Judge.

Therefore he resolved that the government be requested to exempt the City of Red Deer from the provisions of this bill.

And that a copy of this resolution be sent, through the Mayor, to Hon. A. G. MacKay and J. J. Gault, M.P. All members of the Council were present except Ald. Collison and Hayes.

The rate by-law passed its several readings and the rate struck was eleven mills for general purposes, eleven mills for debenture and ten mills for school purposes, making a thirty mill rate.

A by-law arranging for discounts also passed its several readings, the discounts being the same as last year but owing to the by-law being passed a month later than last year the first discount of 12 1/2 per cent. will be allowed up to April 30th; the second discount will be allowed up to June 30th, when 10 per cent. will be allowed. The third discount of 7 1/2 per cent. will be allowed, and on all taxes paid before Nov. 1st, 5 per cent. discount will be allowed.

The water frontage tax by-law was also passed.

Ald. Galbraith drew attention to the fact that as the Council met on Thursday nights, the reports do not appear in the papers until the following week, and suggested that the night of meeting be changed to Monday night, the proceedings would then be fresh to the public.

The Council thought the suggestion a good one and it will be further discussed at next meeting.

REPUTATION COUNTS

With a remedy, as with everything, ZAM-BUK has the best reputation amongst remedies. Why? Because it justifies the claims made for it. Not only does ZAM-BUK cure skin troubles and injuries quickly and permanently, but the quickness with which it ends pain and irritation makes it the most popular remedy wherever it is used.

Then, too, ZAM-BUK is the best preventive of blood-poisoning. Applied to an injury as soon as it happens, it destroys all germs and prevents festering. ZAM-BUK is best for all skin troubles, rashes, pimples, ulcers, burns, cuts and scalds. All dealers, 50c. box.

Everything that will be sold without reserve with the exception of the Stallion, on which is placed a very small reserve bid.

DAYLIGHT SAVING.

Now that the United States has adopted daylight saving, it is practically certain that Canada will follow suit, and a bill will likely be brought down at the next session of parliament to carry out the idea. There would be inevitable confusion at the international boundary if daylight saving was in one country and not in the other. The farmers of the west, we believe, are opposed to the system owing to the late dews, and many farmers in this district worked by the old time later. They would in many cases prefer to have the clock put back one hour and work longer in the evening. They could easily get over that difficulty by deciding to start their day's work one or two hours later in the morning. On the other hand, we believe the people of the cities and towns of the west are strong in favor of the daylight saving measure, as it gives people longer time to enjoy their gardens, open air, and all kinds of recreation during the long evenings.

PUBLISH ALL THE NAMES.

The daily press, in publishing only the names of soldiers returning to the City of Calgary is not acting the part of an up-to-date press to say the least. The name of every soldier boy coming west via Calgary should be published, as well as the names of men for that city alone, as these papers are taken in many instances by country subscribers for this purpose, mainly that they may get news of their boys. Publish all the names and let the people in the country know when their boys are coming home, it will only be for a few weeks more.

THE TARIFF.

It can hardly be expected that the Union Government will stand for so high a tariff as has existed for practically the last forty years, although Hon. R. L. Borden has reduced the tariff to a great extent than the Liberal government ever did. The great west, growing in power and influence, is strongly in favor of reduction. The people look to the government to give heed to their demands, to a moderate extent at least, and unless this occurs they will lose a certain amount of influence in the west. While it is true that both Sir John A. Macdonald and Sir Wilfrid Laurier came into power on a high tariff issue, because Sir Wilfrid Laurier obtained power in 1896 by securing the support of the manufacturers by promising them that he would not change the tariff while he promised them free trade on some of their raw products, still the time has come when Canada can afford to be moderate and meet the United States in a friendly way for the purpose of securing a lower tariff, and we believe the mass of the people of Canada will be behind them. Until some other means is devised to raise a revenue to run the country, we must have a tariff, but at least to be moderate.

It is well to make some modifications in it as will show the people of the west that they intend to give all parts of Canada a fair deal.

REVIEW OF PROVINCIAL MARKETS

Examiner, Calgary, March 7.

CATTLE

With light receipts at all the western yards for the past week owing to the severe weather there has been little fluctuation in prices. There have not been any really choice animals reported in the Calgary yards and the top sales were at $15 on a few head. The steer market is perhaps 25c lower than last week. Cows, on the other hand, have gained fully, and the choice cows will bring up to $12.00. Other cattle are practically the same. There are a few choice veal calves which will bring $11.00, but most of the choice heifers are sold at $10.00. While the stocker and feeder market is said to be slow, the medium weight feeders are selling at $10.50, which is about the same as last week. The regulations which restrict the export of the feeder should naturally have a tendency to put many of these animals in competition with the common and medium steers which have been going as beef and logically the market should drop on them.

Edmonton yards have also been having a light run of cattle, but prices are holding steady, with the top price on steers $14.00 and cows up to $10.00. There is still a big demand for stocker cattle and American buyers are willing to buy up to two thousand head of light steers.

HOGS.

Confirmation of the announcement made in last week's Examiner that the hog trade with the Old Country was going to open up again, the prices have been stiffening. The Calgary market opened up its first business of any volume for the week yesterday with the price at $17.50, with a 2c cut on lights and smooth sows. This morning the sales were at $18.00, with the receipts in favor of reduction. There is nothing to indicate that the removal of the fixed price in the United States will seriously affect our market for the present.

Strength has also been maintained in Edmonton on hogs and the sales yesterday were at $17.50, with receipts fairly light.

SHEEP.

Not many sheep have been sold for killing, but the market is stronger and a few lambs sold at $14.00 which will bring all the prices from a dollar to half a dollar higher than they have been ruling recently.

HORSES.

It is still a buyers' market and those who are looking for work horses are having no difficulty in getting them at very reasonable prices. The market still is towards Edmonton, where there has been a great many horses disposed of during the past few months.

GRAIN.

Some uneasiness was felt in the grain markets over the possible effect

GOSSARD CORSETS

The Original Front-Lacing Corsets

are and always will be indispensable.

New world conditions, demanding the unusual of all patriotic women, have emphasized the superiority of the genuine Gossards. They have become a part of the patriotic war uniform for women.

Only in a Gossard can every woman attain the ideal proportions of her type, an inimitable style and a hygienic support that safeguards her health and assures a priceless all-day comfort.

The perfect Gossard back, with its delightfully flat lines that never have been and never will be attained by those attempting imitations, perfectly supports the spine and back muscles in every position.

The perfect Gossard front eliminates all appearance of fat or thickness and gives a hygienically correct abdominal support that means perfect comfort standing, sitting or bending.

The perfect corset, the original front-lacing corset and the only correct expression of front-lacing principles, minimizes fatigue, assures added efficiency and the economy of a wearing service that alone is worth the price you pay, whether it be $2.00, $2.50, $2.75, $3.00, $3.50, $4.00, $5.50 or more.

The name Gossard on the inside of the corset is your guarantee of the genuine. Insist upon it. Avoid imitations.

The highly specialized service of our corset department assures you

Our stock is complete in "Gossards" for Spring 1919. We have also a nice range of new "Gossard" Brassiers, and our Corsetiere will be pleased to help you select or to fit you properly, if you desire.

BRUMPTON & GAETZ, Limited

Regarding Mail Orders

We are advertising today a number of Ready-to-Wear Ladies Garments upon which we will pay delivery charges to all purchasers in Alberta.

Concerning our mail order business, we are pleased to say it is certainly increasing, and herewith is an extract from a letter from a customer of ours on the Alberta Central Railway, dated February 12, 1919:

"I was so pleased with all you sent me and have sent many to you because they admired what I was wearing, and asked me what mail order house I got them from. I told them 'Brumpton & Gaetz' were much better than mail order houses. One young lady from Edmonton fell in love with my navy silk dress and was going to get one from you to wear in the bank."

It is satisfied customers like this one who are responsible for the splendid growth of this end of our business.

BUILDING FOR COMFORT

Dr. W. A. Evans has this to say in the Chicago Daily Tribune: "The Heating and Ventilation Magazine says that next to water, leaking through the roof 'the worst enemy of the householder is wind.' Wind leaks through the slings and into the windows and doors are leaks in his purse. It is not an uncommon thing in any city for a householder to throw two tons of money away winter through cracks in his house. Two tons of coal at $10 a ton is equal to the interest at 5 per cent on $400. Two tons of coal a year will pay the premium on a snug little life insurance policy; $400 spent on heating devices will pay more than the interest charges.

One way of saving coal is to put some insulation between the ceiling of one story and the floor of the one above it. Such insulation will stop noises travelling from one floor to another. What is more important, it will prevent heat losses.

Another valuable procedure is to put some sort of felt or other insulation between the roof of the building and the ceiling of the upper floor. The magazine quoted says 'we sometimes notice that the snow melts on one roof quicker than on another. That is because the furnace of the one house heats the roof unduly. Melting snow on the roof with the priced coal shovelled into a basement furnace is a losing business. A better plan is to floor the attic after insulating the space between the ceiling below and the attic floor and let the snow stay on the roof until the sun melts it.

Another advantage in insulating and flooring the attic is that it makes the rooms in the upper floor more comfortable in the hot weather. Another suggestion is that side walls be insulated and that storm windows be used. The rooms on the north side of the house are rarely available in the Chicago climate during the four months of mid-winter. So much cold air leaks through the walls and around the windows that it becomes impossible to heat the rooms enough to make them comfortable, and the occupants abandon them for the time being. More insulation in the walls and double windows would make this space usable in zero weather.

ST. LOUIS FUR EXCHANGE BUYS DIRECT FROM TRAPPER.

Due to certain complaints being brought to the notice of the St. Louis Fur Exchange, 7th and Chestnut Sts., St. Louis, Missouri, U.S.A., of unsatisfactory grading of furs as made by some of the advertising fur houses of that market, where in January over ten million dollars worth of furs were sold, they are now also receiving shipments of furs from the trapper direct, and are recognized and guaranteed under license, P.B.F. 30, with the U.S. War Trade Board and all the Collectors of Customs, thus insuring free passage of furs when addressed to them with the words "Raw furs of Canadian origin" on the package or shipping tag. Their advertisement appears on page 6.

FOREIGNERS IN BERLIN ANXIOUS OVER POSITION

London, March 5.—"Extreme anxiety prevails in all circles this evening (Monday)," according to the Berlin correspondent of the Daily Mail.

"There is much uncertainty among foreign residents, regarding their position, especially after the anti-American demonstration of Sunday, and the anti-Italian disturbance at the hotel. It is even rumored that the government does not feel able to guarantee the security of strangers but no indication to this effect has reached the entente authorities."

VERY LIKELY.

A socialist was talking at the Colony club about girls' schools.

"Ultra-fashionable girls' schools I don't like," she said. "They educate a girl in everything but education."

"Two housemaids were talking once about their mistress's daughter, who had just returned from one of these ultra-fashionable schools.

"What's that new course Miss Marjorie is taking?" the first maid asked.

"I think," said the second maid, "I think the name of it is cosmetics."

The Returning Soldier Knows the Value of Good Clothes

One of his big lessons in the army was the value of morale and the different agents it takes to maintain this high efficiency. Good, well fitting clothes that are well made, do more than anything else to give a man the proper self confidence in himself—this lesson has been practically demonstrated to all who were in our Army and Navy.

The soldier is coming back to civilian life with a more thorough understanding of clothes and what they mean to him. He is going to want the best he can get in value, style, fit, fabric and general satisfaction, and we have prepared for him with plenty of

SOCIETY BRAND CLOTHES.

We are proud to offer a very adequate selection of these "tried and true" garments—both in suits and overcoats of the latest fashion, also very correct furnishings to go with the suits. Soldiers are certainly welcome to our store.
